Glimpse of Home

I love our brave men and women of the military! As a surprise to a deployed soldier, I will photograph their family, friends, pets and anything else held dear to their heart. An album is shipped to the soldier of the photos selected by the family as a sincere "Thank You". Glimpses will uplift and encourage the soldier until they can return home. Nominate a soldier today!

Glimpse of a Graduate

I am pleased to provide a deserving student a session and prints to document their senior year in high school. The individual is chosen by the school's counselors. Integrity, hard work, and a blazing desire to serve others, are a few things that guide the selection process. If you know of an amazing individual, refer you counselor to this site!

Glimpse of a Pet

We all know that a photo can say a thousand words. There are many homeless animals at shelters that are so willing to give their life to loving you. Pet portraits allow the animal to be more marketable. My goal is to reveal to you the friend that is waiting. To allow you to fall in love with it through the image and take the next step to visit it in person. These pets will never judge you and will love you unconditionally.
