The Consultation

During our consultation, I will help guide you through your upcoming session. There are many components that create a piece of photographic art. We will discuss how to choose your wardrobe, how different locations enhance your portrait, and focus on your goals for the session. This is the foundation of designing a custom photo shoot resulting in an amazing decorative focal point for your home.

The Shoot

Whether your session is a senior, wedding, family, children or pet portraiture, it will be designed around capturing who you are, right here, right now. I enjoy catching glimpses of wonder, laughter, adoration and true love. I keep the shoot low pressure where kids can run, jump and everyone can be at ease themselves. I'm not afraid to try new things and will laugh at myself while lying in mud to get the shot.

My style is very simple. I feel that the focus of your portrait should be you and yours. The session lasts about an hour. I am mindful of your family and have the patience to allow the story to be told right before your very eyes.

The Proofing Session

The appointment to view your images is made within days after your shoot. You will be invited to the studio to see the artwork that has been designed for you. You will be provided 30-40 images that will be easily filtered, with my help, into a selection of pieces that you can't live without. I want to provide you with a piece of photographic wall art that would be the first material thing you would grab in a time of peril. A piece that stops you for a moment and takes you back to that time in your life for years to come. A piece that can be handed down for generations to come, allowing others a glimpse of who you really were.

The images are projected into lifesize portraits. Actual scale sizes take the guesswork of deciding what the perfect size is for you home. You will be shown the variety of mediums that are available to showcase your photo. Your complimentary Facebook image is selected at this time. To minimize distractions, please make your appointment when you and other decision makers are both available. Make this a night out to enjoy. Payment is due on this day.

The Investment

8x10 gift prints begin at $28 while decorative wall art pieces start at a $78 for a 16x20. There is a minimum purchase of $150. Our referral program allows you to earn free products, while special bonus items are available free with qualifying purchases.

I look forward to building a relationship with you. Call 573-225-5413 to set up an appointment. View a sample of my work on my website at www.goddardphotographyonline.com.

The Delivery

Your art pieces will be carefully packaged and come with a photo icon receipt. It is highly recommend that this receipt is kept in a safe place as a record of the value for insurance replacement purposes. Protect your memories.
